UPS

Ensure your assets work in optimal conditions

Your imaging equipment is a significant investment and a valuable asset.

In the event of power outage or considerable variations of the power wattage, it's performance could be altered or could even lead to system failure, impacting patient security for interventional cases.

With our wide range of UPS (Uninterruptible Power Supply), you no longer have to worry about interruptions due to power outage or power wattage variations.

- Enabling your asset to work in a protected and safe environment.
- Avoiding interruptions with potential patient safety risks and downgraded performance, resulting in downtime and extra costs.
- Compatible with all GE Healthcare equipments.

GE Healthcare

Don't take risks when it comes to your equipment working in a protected and safe environment.

You need a clean and safe power line for your critical equipment.

Whatever imaging equipment you have and the level of protection you need (full or partial, cost-effective or uncompromised), our wide range of UPS (Uninterruptible Power Supply), all validated on GE Healthcare equipment, will bring the right answer and will ensure uptime for your critical processes.
